VOL. LX: No. 42. REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, JANUARY 15, 1921 ESTABLISHED 1859

COMMUNITY AND SCHOOL NURSE FOR REDWOOD

At the annual meeting of Redwood City Chapter of the Red Cross it was decided that there should be a community and school nurse for this city. Mr. A. E. Montieth, Mrs. Viola Poole, and Mr. Roy W. Cloud were appointed as a committee to attend to the matter and to select a nurse.

The committee after much consideration offered the position to Miss Cora Clute, who has had charge of the Social Service nursing for San Mateo county for the past two years. Miss Clute though reluctant to give up her county work decided to accept and resigned her position last Monday and on Wednesday began her local work. To familiarize herself with her new position she spent Wednesday in Burlingame, Thursday in South San Francisco and yesterday in Oakland, studying the nursing problems there. On Monday she will actively begin her duties here.

Miss Clute is a splendidly trained nurse and has had a great amount of practical experience which will particularly fit her for her local work. After finishing her training in Lane Hospital she did private work for a while. She was then connected with the Red Cross Hospital at San Mateo. At the outbreak of the war she enlisted in the navy and served through out the war as a naval nurse. She then took up her work with the San Mateo County Social Service and has been in that position since. As most of the San Mateo Conuty work has been with children she is no stranger to a large number of homes she will now have to visit.

Mrs. Cunningham was a native of Norfolk, Virginia, and was 69 years of age. The funeral took palce on Tuesday. A requiem high mass was celebrated in All Soul's Catholic church.

Judge Cunningham has the sympathy of the people of the county in his sad bereavement.

JUDGE GRIFFIN HANDS THEM $50 FINE FOR VIOLATING THE STATE GAME LAWS

Judge Griffin on Thursday fined James Gambetta the sum of $50 for violating the game laws. He was found with 24 quail when the limit is 15. The birds were shipped to San Francisco for sale but the shipment was stopped at the Ferry Building and an investigation made. The game wardens, Burke and Leahy went to the ranch of Gambetta at King's Mountain and while there made a search of the place. They found 48 quail in coops having been trapped recently.

By an investigation it was shown that the quail sent to the city were also trapped. No shot was found in their bodies but the heads of each of the birds were crushed, showing that they were killed in that manner by Gambetta to hide his guilt.

Quail are very plentiful in that section and it is an easy matter to trap them. It is believed that Gambettta has been doing this for some little time. The birds bring a big price in the San Francisco cafes. It is against the law to sell them.

BEYLARD AWARDED $879 BY JURY IN DAMAGE SUIT

A jury in Superior Judge George H. Buck's court Tuesday returned a verdict awarding E. D. Beylard $879 in his $7050 damage suit against Silvio Olivio. The suit was for personal damages and damages to Beylard's automobile caused by a collision on the state highway near the Burlingame North Gates on December 17, 1919. Beylard claimed that a truck belonging to Olivio was being operated in a careless manner and without lights and asked for $1050 for damages to his automobile, $1000 for physician's charges and $5000 for personal injuries.

Beylard was represented by Hall C. Ross and Arthur Reddington and the defendant by Hartley Peart and Mr. Jacobs, both of San Francisco.

F. O. E. HELD ROUSING MEETING IN FORESTERS' HALL HERE ON LAST FRIDAY EVENING

The monthly meeting of the Associated Aeries of San Mateo County, Fraternal Order of Eagles, comprising the lodges of Halfmoon Bay, Vista Grande, South San Francisco, San Mateo and Redwood City which convened in Foresters' hall last Friday evening brought out a large crowd of local members to greet and help to entertain the visiting delegates from the other Aeries of the county. Shortly before the arrival of the delegates the members of the Redwood City Aerie assembled at the Southern Pacific station where upon the arrival of their guests they formed into line and marched to the convention hall headed by the famous drum corps of the Vista Grande Aerie which has won so many trophies at state conventions as the best drilled as well as the most elegantly caparisoned drum corps in the state. The line of march was captained by Geo. Christ of Redwood City Aerie. L. Bodine, president of the Associated Aeries and leader of the Vista Grande drum corps and the members of the corps were the recipients of many compliments during the evening's festivities. Owing to the serious injury of Louis Meehan of the San Mateo Aerie who was recently elected secretary of the Association and who will probably be confined to the hospital for several weeks, Jack Reynolds of the Redwood Aerie was appointed acting secretary until Mr. Meehan's recovery. Past President Schottler and head chef of the Redwood Aerie came in for much praise for the splendid feast they set before the hungry Eagles. The next meeting of the Association will be held at Halfmoon Bay on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, January 16th.

EMPLOYES WARNED AGAINST UNSAFE INVESTMENTS

T. O. Edwards, auditor of the Southern Pacific company, issues a word of warning to teh thousands of employes on the Pacific System against putting their savings into purely speculative ventures. This warning was prompted by recent discovery that a number of employes had lost Liberty Bond savings and other "nest eggs" through the misrepresentation of artful and unscrupulous promoters.

"No matter how attractive the proposition may seem to be on the surface," says the Southern Pacific's financial authority, "employes before investing their savings should consult with some responsible banker in their community, who will gladly give them frank and unbiased advice, whether they are a patron of the bank or not. There the many opportunities for soun dand profitable investments at the preesnt time, but there are also attempts being made every day to dfraud the public and impose upon the credulous."

Former Supervisor of the First Township, James T. Casey, was in town yesterday looking the picture of health and very happy. He wore a ten by nine smile and this may be accounted for by the fact that he has just received a big commission for the sale of the Mrs. James Henderson ranch at Colma. It was sold by Mr. Casey last week for $40,000. Mrs. Henderson was formerly Mrs. Henry Ward Brown.

CITY TRUSTEES MET MONDAY

There was a full meeeting of the town board on Monday evening when the members met with the owners of the Redwood City Water company to discuss the question of renewing the contract for furnishing the town with water.

A. D. Walsh, Dr. J. L. Ross and H. W. Schaberg were present to represent the water company.

The present contract will expire on March 6, 1921, the contract having been entered into on March 6, 1911, for a period of ten years. The rate under the old agreement was 12½ cents per 1000 cubic feet of water and the maximum amount is 600,000 gallons per day. A. D. Walsh, president of the company said the purpose of the company was not for profit but to take care of the needs of the city at the time when the city was in need of a water supply. The concern was organized for that purpose and not for money making. He recited the efforts made some ten or twelve years ago by some committee to look into the matter and if possible to have the Spring Valley Water company furnish the town with water. The project failed owing to the big price asked by the company and the rate the water consumers would have to pay.

The committee then decided to organize a company for the purpose of sinking wells in the Eastern Addition near Chestnut street.

Water was pumped at first from the companys plant to the tanks at the corporation yards on Phelps street, but later, in order to improve the pressure system, a reservoir was cnstructed in the hills above Oak Knoll Manor. The pumping of the water to this reservoir, President Walsh explained, necessitated expensive improvements to the company's system, in addition to the installation of a new pipe line on Chestnut street. To meet this expense the city allowed a raise of two and one-half cents in the water rate, which the owners of the company did not consider sufficient, but which they nevertheless accepted. Figures submitted by Secretary Schaberg of the company showed that the city of Burlingame is now paying the Spring Valley Water company from 18 to 24 cents per 1000 gallons for water, while the City of San Mateo is paying the San Mateo Peninsula Water company 26 2-3 cents per 1000 cubic feet for water furnished for municipal purposes, the company is also furnishing the public water direct.

The meeting between the trustees and the water company officials was a very amicable one, the members of the board being anxious to secure as low a rate as possible and at the same time agreeing that the company was entitled to a fair and just return on their investment.

Following considerable discussion, the officials of the water company agreed to furnish the trustees with all necessary data as to the increase in the cost of its operating expenses, so as to arrive at a fair rate to be charged in the new contract. At the same time the water company officials agreed to submit a proposition for the city taking over the plant. About a year ago the company offered to sell its entire interests to the city for $35,000.

The company since its organization has sunk 18 wells, to depths of from 165 feet to 268 feet. Several of these wells are now i noperation and another well is now being sunk. The water is raised from the wells through air suction and is emptied into large tanks from which it is pumped through mains to the reservoir already spoken of, which is located some three miles from the plant.

DUCK HUNTING SEASON IS DRAWING TO A CLOSE

The duck hunting season is fast drawing to a close, the 31st of this month being the last day on which the webfoot birds can be legally taken. Results have been far from satisfactory for the majority of the hunters. Only those who know the game thoroughly and have made a study of wild bird life from year to year met with success. George Genochio, Henry Bullivant and Claude Fox came in from the bay Thursday with 43 birds, thirty of which were sprig. It was as fine a bunch as has been seen this season, the big pintails being in full plumage, and excellent condition, averaging three pounds each.

DUCK HUNTING REMINISENCES

Story No. 28.

By Claude Fox.

The knowledge derived by my first moonlight shoot benefitted not only myself but Fred Statler as well. He and I became as inseparable companions as "Bill" and myself had been during our early duck hunting career. Fred was slightly older than I, had been hunting longer and consequently had gained more knowledge and experience. What he knew of the marshland and the habits of the webfoots he divulged to me and I, in exchange for his companionship, placed my personal experience and knowledge at his disposal.

Just a short distance east of the Little Pond Fred had discovered a favorite resort, for spooneys in the Big Gravel Bed and down at the end of the Second Fence was a small basin-shaped arm of Bushy Creek from which a spring of fresh water bubbled forth. This had been christened the Little Mud Hole. It was a name more than appropriate, for if man or boy ever waded into the center of this puddle to retrieve a wild duck it was a difficult matter to again get out of the slimy ooze back on to the solid marsh land. We both knocked over many a spoonbill at the Big Gravel Bed during the succeeding years and hundreds of the little green winged teal yielded up their lives to our marksmanship and the enticing allurments of the Littlte Mud Hole.

Down back of Billy Carnduff's place quite a good sized slough came meandering in toward the main land and at its head formed a large basin from which a spring ran the year round. This was designated the Big Mud Hole. It was a name which meant all it implied, for it was the most devilish place to work a dog in retrieving ducks that I ever saw. While the tide was up it was no more difficult than any slough, but at half tide or low water I considered it almost a crime to permit man's best friend, his hunting dog, to waste his canine strength and energy in bringing in ducks from its muddy center. Here George and Henry Hall, Patsy, Frank and Jack McEvoy, James and the late Con Cullen had killed hundreds of birds. While I shot at this place occasionally I was not much impressed with it as a place to shoot either night or day by reason of the hardships a dog would have to endure in recovering the bodies of the feathered tribe. My experience with Walter Welch turned my attention more to field shooting. The birds were easily picked up without aid of a dog and the very cleanliness was beauty of the varied colored feathers of the widgeon made them look as though they had stepped out of a wild duck dressing room, if such a place should exist. So Fred Stalter and I turned our attention southward to the large ranches of the Nash, Kavanaugh, Crow, Carnduff and Cooley families, which each succeeding year had been sown with barley or wheat.

Right here I desire to pay tribute to these people whoes names and the recollections of their hospitality and kindness should live forever in the hearts and minds of the "boys of yesterday," so to speak, who partook of their unbounded generosity, while in pursuit of the widgeon, mallard and wild geese which in those years of long ago made what could be truth fully designated a duck hunter's paradise. "Bill" and myself had acquired the enduring friendship of Myles D. Sweeny, by notifying him of the predicament of one of his horses which had mired down in his adobe field, but some of the boys had a habit on very cold nights of bulding a warming fire along the marshland, using the boards and posts of the Hibernia Bank president's fences as kindling wood. Naturally Mr. Sweeny objected and was not very enthused at the sight of a boy or man, with shotgun in hand, crossing his broad acres. James L. Flood, "Jimmie" as we boys were wont to call him, did not approve of trespassers in his duck pond which had been constructed at considerable expense for Mr. Flood's personal pleasure. Hence, as I say, we turned southward.

Is there a man among the early settlers of this vicinity, or a "boy of yesterday," imbibed with "duckitis," who in those days hunted over the ranches of those above mentioned who will not remember the genial, smiling countenance of the late Samuel Nash, Sr.? Can you ever forget his "good morning, boys, what luck today," coupled with a kind invitation to drop in at the ranch house and partake of a glass of milk? Will you ever forget the father of Moses Kavanaugh, somewhat gruff in appearance, but possessed of a heart as large as an ox? Will memory permit you to put aside the picture of Sturdy Mat Crow, with his stubby black mustache and dark snappy eyes as he greeted you with a hand-shake that came straight from his heart and an invitation to put your horse right in the barn coupled with a "don't care if I take one myself, boys " Do you remember the growth of wild willows and tall poplar trees that sheltered the home of Billy Carnduff's parents,, as estimable a couple of our pioneers as ever saw the morning sun creep up over Mount Hamilton? Can you put aside for one moment recollections of the grand shooting you had on the broad acres of, and the genuine hospitality extended to you by the Colley family, whose reputation for unconventional goodfellowship and generosity extended from one end of our county to the other? As a matter of fact, did you or I ever leave the hospitable homes of any of these people hungry? Was you or I ever denied permission by these people to shoot over their lands?

Not you, not I. No. God, providence, fate, or whatever power you may choose to call it had placed together on adjoining ranches at Ravenswood five of the most hospitable pioneer families of this state under the sun. They lived and let live, those men and women who helped lay the very foundation of our government. They shall not be forgotten, either by you or I. Of those ten personages who constituted the heads of these families, nine have pasesd away, the only survivor being Mrs. Geraldine E. Cooley Frisbie. This noble woman was a mother to the duck hunting "boys of yesterday," and I consider it the duty of those who now survive to offer to Heaven a silent prayer that when the summons comes, as it surely must, to this sole surviving friend of ours, that she may pass peacefully, without suffering, to her Maker, to be by Him rewarded richly, if for no other reason, for her kind, unselfish, motherly regard for the duck hunting "boys of yesterday."

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS IN REGULAR SESSION

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, January 10.

A petition signed by Asa E. Hull and other residents and taxpayers of the Second District, was received asking for the abandonment of that portion of the Canyada road, lying between the Halfmoon Bay road, near what is known as the Mountain House, and the stone circle constructed at the junction of the Canyada Road, Whipple avenue and the private road of the Spring Valley Company. In the petition it was stated that the Spring Valley's private road 40 feet in width, lying east of the Crystal Springs Lake and between the Halfmoon Bay road and the stone circle above mentioned, has been constructed to replace the road requested in the petition to be abandoned.

W. B. Lawrence, superintendent of the Spring Valley Water Company, appeared before the board and testified as to the facts contained in the petition and as to the validity of the names therein.

The petition was thereupon ordered accepted, on motion of Mrs. Brown seconded by Hickey, and in order made setting Monday, February 7th, 1921, at 10 o'clock a. m., as the time for the hearing in the matter.

A petition signed by August Johansen and other residents of the Menlo Park Lighting District, was received, asking for the installation of two lights on San Antonio avenue in the Third Township. The petition was granted, on motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey.

The report of the San Mateo County Social Service Commission recommending the granting and withdrawal of aid under dates of December 20, 1920, and January 3, 1921, was received, and on motion of Hickey, seconded by Mrs. Brown, was accepted.

Dr. C. T. Cochrane, county dentist, submitted the following report for the month of December, 1920.

Examinations	69
Prophylaxis	16
Extractions	16
Fillings	15
Treatments	1
Abscess Removals	1

The auditor's statement showing the condition of the various funds of the county were received and ordered filed by Chairman Thompson.

The following report was received from Dr. W. C. McLean, county veterinarian, for the month of December, 1920:

Inspections—
86 head of cattle at $1.00	$86.00
192 hogs at 50 cents	96.00
252 Calves at 15 cents	13.80
35 Calves at 25 cents	8.75
14 Sheep at 15 cents	2.10
14 Suckling pigs at 10 cents	1.40

The report also showed ten dairy inspections during the month.

Miss Cora E. Clute, county nurse, submitted her report showing the following activities during the month of December, 1920:

No. of children weighed and measured	162
No. children weighed by clinic	45
Von Pirquet tests	2
No. of visits	50

Miss Clute submitted her resignation as county nurse, which was accepted on motion of Hickey, seconded by MacBain.

The board took up at this time the claim of Stuart A. Smith in the sum of $3612 for a Telsmith portable cruhser plant sold the county last fall and over which there was a dispute as to whether or not Smith had agreed to furnish a gasoline engine with the plant, Supervisor MacBain holding that the firm had agreed to supply the engine.

Stuart A. Smith was present at the meeting and addressed the board in the matter. He said he was sorry there had been a misunderstanding over the question of the gasoline engine, but that he had not agreed to furnish the engine. He was willing to do everything he could to get the crusher in satisfactory working order and if the board desired he would procure an engine and set the plant up and give a demonstration.

A letter addressed to Supervisor MacBain from Smith was read by Mrs. Nash, giving the items that were included in the outfit purchased by the county and which amounted to $3612.

Moths Supervisor Hickey agreeing to arranging for a demonstration of the crusher at one of his quarries in the First District, the claim of Smith was laid over until a later meeting.

On motion of MacBain, seconded by Hickey, the supervisor of the third township was empowered to purchase a tractor for use in his district.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 15, 1921

1921 SESSION OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE

Sacramento, January 14.—The 1921 session of the Legislature has just begun, and the first half of the second week of the session has caused those who prophesied a quiet, uninteresting session, to in a great measure revise, if not reverse, their prophecy. It is a little early yet for the "old timers" to declare themselves and the first half of the second week has caused them no little wonderment.

There are about forty-two new members in the Assembly, and there is a disposition on the part of a great majority of these to not take "program." There is a disposition on the part of many of these hard-headed, careful, conservative men from the interior to want to know the "how and why" of things. George Cleveland of Watsonville is going to find out if he can, why each of the many commissions has from one to three or four attorneys and has already introduced a bill eliminating five of them, with more to come. Sen ator Inman wants to know why the Railroad Commission asks for $1,-142,000.00 and the rates to consumers of public utility products are constantly increasing. Many farmers want to know why perishable products are kept in cold storage until another crop comes for which there is comparatively little demand owing to the products in cold storage.

True, there are not many bills introduced, but a majority of them will cause many people in different parts of the State considerable worriment. On the more important of these you will be duly advised later on by your chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations.

Several propositions and necessary bills are puzzling the Governor. The pressing ones are revenue and taxation, consolidation of the many state commissions and consequent reduction in expenditures and election laws Revenue to meet the demands of state for the next two years is causing the greatest worry just at present. The state budget and fixed charges call for about $85,000,000. There is available about $66,000,000, leaving a deficit of about $20,000,000. How to raise this amount is the problem. Two things are necessary. One is to cut down the amount wherever pos sible and to increase the amount to be raised by taxation. Consolidation of the forty odd committees will save quite a sum. One of the problems of raising more money is the one cent a gallon tax on gasoline which may be resorted to as a last resort.

Re-districting the state in congressional, senatorial and assembly districts is also causing no end of discus sion. The remarkable increase in population in the southern counties and decrease in population in part of the northern counties, due to the cessation of mining in some of the mountain counties is causing no end of trouble. Los Angeles County alone now having fifteen assemblymen will stand out for twenty-two assemblymen owing to its population of 937,-000. San Francisco will stand the loss of at least one asesmblyman and one senator. The census shows the population of a little over 60,000 each in Riverside and Orange counties and a population of about 120,-000 in San Diego. During the last ten years the representation was figured at 30,000 for an assemblyman and 60,000 for a senator. Today this representation is raised about 42,500 for an assemblyman and 85,000 for a senator, owing to the increase in population. In addition the state gains five congressmen, but under our constitution the legislature is fixed at forty senators and eighty assemblymen. You know the population of your county. Get busy and try and figure it out, keeping in mind always that each district will want all it can get.

$26,000 ASKED FOR DAMAGES CAUSED BY AUTO ACCIDENT

Damage suits aggregating $26,440 resulting fro man automobile accident on the state highway in San Mateo on January 11, 1920, were filed yesterday in the superior court at Redwood City by Attorney Louis O'Neal on behalf of his clients, A. A. Dulion, M. Lou Dulion, Alice and Elsie Dulion, all of San Jose, against R. C. Laird, Joe Rosenberg, and the Pioneer Automobile company, all of San Francisco.

The complaints state that the plain tiffs were riding south on the highway near San Mateo when a machine, driven by Laird and Rosenberg threw off a wheel which collided with their automobile causing it to overturn and resulting in bodily injuries to the plaintiffs. The claim is made that the defendants knew their car was in an unfit condition to be driven, it having been in the repair shop of the Pioneer Automobile company for the purpose of having the wheel fixed, and that the Pioneer Automobile company also knew for two days that the car should not have been driven and were responsible for the accident in allowing the car to be taken out.

Damages are asked for as follows: Alice Dulion, $5052; Elsie Dulion, $20,000; A. A. Dulion, $368, and M. Lou Dulion, $1020.

DESERTED AFTER THIRTY YEARS ASKS DIVORCE

After thirty years of marired life, during which time two daughters were raised to womanhood, Archibald L. McKendry in a compalint filed Tuesday in. the superior court through his attorney, Arthur Joel of San Francisco, states that he was deserted by his wife, Maude McKendry, on September 14, 1920, and asks that he be awarded a divorce on the grounds of desertion.

The complaint states that the couple were married on August 27, 1890, and lived together until May 1, 1918, since which time the yhave lived apart at times, the wife finally deserting the plaintiff on the 14th of last September.

CARE-FREE MAID FALLS IN LAW NET AFTER ESCAPADES

Grace Hampshire, alias Hazel Hamshire, alias Anita Kewnig, 15-year-old Ealada Beach girl, has a mania for spending other people's money. On December 16, last year, Grace escaped from the Juvenile Court authorities at Redwood City, and until Tuesday has been having the time of her sweet young life, purchasing silks satins, shoes, hats, etc., at various San Francisco stores and charging the same to Mrs. J. Kewnig, her grandmother, of Salada Beach. During her liberty over more than three weeks the police claim she purchased over $725 worth of merchandise at the Emporium alone.

She purchased twelve expensive shirt waists and sent them to her grandmother for a Christmas present. She bought a fur coat for $100 and sold the same in Redwood City for $5. She kept a crude set of books and also a list of the county officer's names whom she knew it was best to avoid.

The girl is an orphan and has been living at Salada Beach with her grandmother, but was recently sent to the Detention Home at Redwood City on a delinquency charge. Since he escape she has been sought all over the state. She was arrested at Fifth and Market streets, San Francisco, by Francis Rapp and Mrs. H. Hall, San Mateo county Juvenile court officers, after having been apprehended by her aunt.

Story No. 28.

By Claude Fox.

The knowledge derived by my first moonlight shoot benefitted not only myself but Fred Statler as well. He and I became as inseparable companions as "Bill" and myself had been during our early duck hunting career. Fred was slightly older than I, had been hunting longer and consequently had gained more knowledge and experience. What he knew of the marshland and the habits of the webfoots he divulged to me and I, in exchange for his companionship, placed my personal experience and knowledge at his disposal.

Just a short distance east of the ... Pond Fred had discovered a ... of the most hospitable you remember the growth of wild willows and tall poplar trees that sheltered the home of Billy Carnduff's parents,, as estimable a couple of our pioneers as ever saw the morning sun creep up over Mount Hamilton? Can you put aside—for one moment recollections of the grand shooting you had on the broad acres of, and the genuine hospitality extended to you by the Colley family, whose reputation for unconventional goodfellowship and generosity extended from one end of our county to the other? As a matter of fact, did you or I ever leave the hospitable homes of any of these people hungry? Was you or I ever denied permission by these people to shoot over their lands?

Not you, not I.. No. God, providence, fate, or whatever power you may choose to call it had placed together on adjoining ranches at Ra... people who ... and which amounted to claim of Stuart A. Smith in the sum of $3612 for a Telsmith portable cruhser plant sold the county last fall and over which there was a dispute as to whether or not Smith had agreed to furnish a gasoline engine with the plant, Supervisor MacBain holding that the firm had agreed to supply the engine.

Stuart A. Smith was present at the meeting and addressed the board in the matter. He said he was sorry there had been a misunderstanding over the question of the gasoline engine, but that he had not agreed to furnish the engine. He was willing to do everything he could to get the crusher in satisfactory working order and if the board desired he would procure an engine and set the plant up and give a demonstration.

A letter addressed to Supervisor MacBain from Smith was read by Mrs. Nash, giving the items that were included in the outfit purchased by ... to the within instrument, and acknowledged that he executed the same.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my Official Seal, the day and year in this certificate first above written.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Miss Nency Nunn of Atherton has resumed her duties in the clerk's office after an absence of several weeks.

Mrs. Gertrude Carroll has purchased six lots on Valparaiso and the Alameda on which she is erecting a neat residence. She contemplates engaging in the chicken business.

A new oil station is being installed on Robie avenue near the highway. This makes the fifth station in town.

Miss Alah Vincent will entertain today at luncheon Miss Dora Wren, the domestic science teacher of the Sequoia Union High School.

During the week nearly half a million strawberry plants arrived from the strawberry association of Watsonville for a company of Japanese who have leased a portion of the Sweeny ranch near Redwood City. The Japanese are going to put in a large acreage to strawberries this season. It is said that there is going to be a big price for the fruit this season, as there is a new method discovered by which the berries can be shipped to eastern markets. Many farmers at Runnymede are engaging in the business. The berry will take the place of the tomato crop next season.

That Runnymede is soon to have an efficient fire alarm system was practically assured last Saturday when $67.50 was added to the alarm fund through the holding of a community social at the school house.

The literary program given at the social was of exceptional merit and each number on the bill was roundly applauded. Numbers that came in for special encore were a piano duet by Mrs. William Gurr and Mrs. C. S. Harlan and a vocal duet by Violet Simpson and Helen Crother. The sale of cakes and refreshments added materially to the fire alarm fund and the board of directors will take immediate steps toward obtaining the needed system.

W. J. Murray, the realty broker, has sold a parcel of land on the corner of Robie avenue and the state highway to Mr. Batchelder of Stockton. He is to establish an oil station and restaurant on the property. He will begin building at once.

W. T. Casey, the plumber, has just completed the installation of an air pressure and water system in the new residence of Mr. Moore, adjoining the home of Samuel M. Shortridge. The system cost $5,000.

Mrs. H. C. Brown passed away last week in San Francisco. She resided with her family at Atherton. The Browns bought one of the Netty Harrison cottages some time ago. Mrs. Brown has been an invalid for nine years.

Miss Bertha Brown, the 17-year-old daughter of Arthur Brown of San Mateo, passed away at her home there last week following a brief illness. Mr. Brown has been an invalid for some months and is now lying at the point of death. Mr. Brown was an officer during the military camp, being appointed by the board of supervisors. He became well known to all during his stay of two years. Mr. Brown was formerly the building trades delegate for this territory.

Students of the San Mateo Union High school contributed $56.63 for the benefit of the wounded soldiers at the base hospital. The money was used to purchase magazines for the boys. The idea of magazine subscriptions was suggested by Principal Glascock on the theory that such a gift would provide diversion throughout the entire year.

The Native Daughters' card party on January 10 in Native Sons' Hall is going to be a big event. The committee in charge has secured some valuable prizes for the players. A large number are expected from the neighboring towns.

A real estate man from San Francisco was here during the week with a view to locating here. He expected much activity in real estate during the year. His office in the city has many inquiries for property located anywhere between Redwood City and Palo Alto.

Thursday evening in Trinity Hall Miss Nellie McCarthy was given a miscellaneous shower by her girl friends in Menlo Park and on the peninsula. The pretty and charming prospective bride was the recipient of many useful articles, the gifts of her many friends. Miss McCarthy is soon to wed a prosperous resident of Oakland. He is an accountant and quite wealthy. Miss McCarthy has for some time been the motif of numerous parties in anticipation of her wedding. Miss McCarthy is very popular and has a wide circle of acquaintances on the peninsula. She is a charming young woman.

Hal Brown with a corps of helpers in engaged in shipping all the railroad ties and rails that were used during the war at the remount station to the Presidio. They were placed on a siding on the Dumbarton track near the Carnduff home ready for shipment.

Runnymede continues to grow in leaps and bounds. New homes are sprouting up like mushrooms and the gas, light, water and telephone companies are kept busy installing their services. Several new telephones were installed during the past few days. Among the telephones supplied are A. O. Anderson, C. E. Hedborg, W. S. Wardlaw, H. L. Larsen, Len Follett and M. F. Gallagher.

Miss H. A. Compton, a pretty and charming young lady of San Francisco, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John MacBain.

MANY WOMEN USE GLYCERINE MIXTURE

Redwood City women will be surprised at the INSTANT pleasant action of simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adler-i-ka. One spoonful relieves ANY ASEC gas on the stomach or sour stomach. Because Adler-i-ka acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel it often cures constipation and prevents appendicitis. One lady reports herself CURED of a bad case of bowel trouble and constipation. Young Drug Co.

Ideals of a Big Bank

The Bank of Italy desires to be considered as an institution with human aspirations, sympathies and ideals.

We want California's largest bank to be different—to breathe a different spirit—to reflect a different attitude from that of the average financial institution.

We endeavor to give willing, cheerful service—to be broad-minded—liberal in our sympathies—helpful in our strength.

We desire to evince an impartial, conscientious interest in every patron.

We have endeavored to maintain these ideals in the past. They will continue to be our aim and purpose in the future.
